

The

"Glory Manifesto"

- I want God's glory to be the goal of my life.
 - I consider his glory to be more important than my own personal goals for life.
 - I want his will to be done, even if it is not what I might desire.
 - I want his will to be done, even if he chooses to use and to bless others more than me.
- I am willing to freely, and honestly, confess my sin.
 - To God, and (when applicable) to people I have sinned against.
- I am willing to trust God in all things and at all times.
 - Even when the outcome looks uncertain and bleak.
- I want God's glory to be exalted in all the earth.
 - I am greatly distressed when people dishonor the God who created them.
- I want to have a fruitful life.
 - The result of a life of righteousness and obedience.
- I will be content in whatever circumstances God places me.
 - Even if it is not the life I would prefer.
- I will "work out" my salvation – that is, I will grow in my obedience.
 - Knowing that God makes this growth possible.
- I want to use my skills and abilities in a way that honors God.
 - As God's representative, the world will learn about God through me.
- I will rejoice, because God is in control of my life.
 - Though I often fail to understand what he is doing.
- I will stand up for God's truth.
 - It is the foundation for all that I am in Christ.
- I will be filled with praise and thanks to God.
 - Not only for what he does, but because of who he is.
- I want to promote God's glory in any way that I can.
 - I plan to go beyond mere talk; otherwise I am dishonoring God.
- I want to live "everyday life" in a way that honors God.
 - This includes the so-called "minor" things of life.
- I want to share the good news with others.
 - Working together with other believers, since God gives different people different gifts.
- I am willing to suffer for Jesus, whether in life or in death.
 - An expression of love for him who suffered so much more for me!
- I will admit that God is the source of all that is truly good in my life.
 - There is no other kind of genuine goodness.
- I will pursue holiness as God's calling out of a morally corrupt world.
 - The one who called me can be trusted.
